PORTER HOSPITAL AND FRENCH CHATEAU DEDICATED WITH FITTING CEREMONIES

Two New Buildings, Both Well Equipped and of Modern Construction, Are Valuable Addition to College Campus

DR. M. ALLEN STARR SPEAKS AT HOSPITAL

Says It Will Render Great Service To The Community

Porter Hospital, the gift of William H. Porter of New York City, was formally dedicated yesterday afternoon in the presence of a large gathering of alumni, faculty, students and friends of Middlebury College. Dr. M. Allen Star delivered the dedicatory address. The institution not only is a most valuable addition to the college, but augments greatly the hospital facilities of this part of the state of Vermont. It is unusually well-fitted and complete in ever detail and is situated on a beautiful knoll to the south of the college campus where it commands an excellent view of the entire Green Mountain range.

William H. Porter, whose generous gift made possible the erection of the hospital, is a partner in the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., New York City. He was born in Middlebury and has always been a generous benefactor of the college, the Porter athletic field having been one of his gifts. The gift of the hospital is to perpetuate the memory of his parents, William Trowbridge Porter and Martha Elizabeth Porter.

The dedicatory address was made by M. Allen Starr, a noted neurologist of New York and a member of the Starr family which has been a benefactor of the college since its earliest days. In his speech, Dr. Starr stressed especially the important work whch such a hospital can do in the community and expressed the hope that it might be a stimulus for more Middlebury graduates to take up the study of medicine. He said in part:

"This hospital has been the result of most careful thought on his part, first to find the most crying need of the college; secondly, to devise the most complete building, a work requiring study and frequent revision as contingencies at first unexpected arose, and thirdly, to secure its adequate equipment. It is now ready to afford proper care for those who are ill, to offer immediate surgical relief for those who are injured and to save the lives of any where success depends upon prompt operation.

"He gave illustrations to show the absolute necessity of a hospital in any community, especially in a college town where in a certain sense the heatlh and

MORIZE OF HARVARD DEDICATES CHATEAU

"It Will Be Inspiration To Thought and Culture"

Middlebury's new French Chateau, the corner-stone of which was laid last July, received its official dedication yesterday afternoon after its doors had been thrown open to public inspection earlier in the day. During the ceremony there flew from the windows of the upper stories, on one side the Stars and Stripes and from the other, the Tri-Color of France. Although the exterior has been completed for some time, there still remains considerable finishing and interior decorating to be done. The chateau will be ready for occupancy of the French students next fall.

The dedicatory address was delivered by Professor Andre Morize of Harvard University, who is recognized as one of the most eminent of French educators in America. Professor Morize, in opening his address marveled at the speed with which the chateau has been erected, saying that symbolized to him the reputation of both Americas for rapid achievement. "It stands," he said, "For a two-fold achievement,—material and moral,—the completion of a building,—and the blossoming of a splendid work."

Next the speaker touched upon the great influence Middlebury has exercised in recent years in elevating the standard for the teaching of French in America and in promoting a greater knowledge of French culture. Drawing his comparison from the faithfulness to detail and spirit with which the chateau has reproduced the spirit of the palace of Fontainbleau, Professor Morize said, "This Maison Francaise means and embodies a contact, a living liaison with French ideas, and French

Schaefer Chosen Track Captain

At a recent meeting of the track letter men Lester W. Schaefer '26 of Hartford, Connecticut, was elected captain of track for the 1926 season. Schaefer has been on the track squad for the past two years and was on the 1924 football squad. He is the manager-elect of hockey for next year. He is a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon.

Only eight men made track letters during the past season. They were Captain Cass '25, Captain-elect Schaefer '26, Whitney '25, Hollquist '25, Happ '25, Weetfall '28, Donald '28 and Firman '28.

COLLEGE CONFERS 140 DEGREES AT 125TH COMMENCEMENT TUESDAY

PRESIDENT MOODY ADDRESSES SENIORS IN BACCALAUREATE

"Relation of Knowledge to Life" Is Theme of Sermon

The relation of knowledge to life was the theme of the baccalaureate sermon delivered by President Paul Dwight Moody to the class of 1925 in the Mead Memorial Chapel Sunday morning. Special music was rendered by the College choir under the direction of Professor Lewis J. Hathaway.

President Moody took as his text John XVII:3, "And this is life etrenal, that they should know Thee only true God, and Him whom Thou didst send, even Jesus Christ." He said in part:

"Sinclair Lewis, who has seen clearly and thought, if not always deeply or constructively, at least challengingly, has just rendered another service by graphically presenting a question or problem. His most recent book, Arrowsmith, is, in brief, a discussion of the struggle in the mind of a man between a love of pure science and the clamor of human need. This is not the place, nor amI the one to enter into a discussion of this book, but I cite it as an ephemeral statement of a very old question—the relation of knowledge to life.

"Of the age of this problem I need not speak. In every generation it takes different forms. And a certain amount of sympathy can be felt for those who decry college education when they say triumphantly that colleges cannot be trusted to train youth when the colleges themselves do not know what their own aim or purpose is. A few weeks ago a noted educator said in my hearing that the colleges were groping. The newly elected trustee of a certain well known college, I am informed, ask-

Class Of 1925 Is Largest Ever To Graduate In History Of College ---Seven Honorary Degreee

COMMENCEMENT ADDRESS IS BY ATT'Y GEN. SARGENT

Sargent, Husband and Wales Receive LL.D. Degree---Professor Bryant Given Sc.D.

One hundred and thirty-three degrees in course and seven honorary degrees were conferred by Middlebury College this morning at the one hundred and twenty-fifth annual Commencement exercises held in the historic old Congregational church. The class was the largest in the century and a quarter of Middlebury's history. The Commencement address was given by John Garibaldi Sargent, attorney-general of the United States.

Seventy men and fifty-eight women were given bachelor's degrees while one man and four women were given master's degrees. Honorary degrees were conferred upon six men and one woman. George Russell Wales '87, John Garibaldi Sargent, and William Walter Husband were given the degree of Doctor of Laws. The degree of Doctor of Divinity was given to Enoch Frye Bell, Doctor of Letters to Andre Morize, Doctor of Science to Ernest Calvin Bryant '91, and Master of Art to Caroline S. Woodruff.

Prominent People Receive Degrees

Mr. Wales, since his graduation from Middlebury in 1887, has for years been prominent in the civil service work of the United States. He was chief examiner of the United States civil service from 1908 to 1919 and since 1919 has been a member of the civil service commission.

John G. Sargent, who delivered the Commencement address, has been prominent in the affairs of the nation since his appointment as President Coolidge's attorney-general last March. His home is in Ludlow, not far from Middlebury and during his years of service in the state offices of Vermont he always showed an interest in the college.

W. W. Husband, another native of Vermont, is the second assistant secretary of labor. He was recently appointed to that position after having been for several years the commissioner general of immigration.

Rev. Bell served for some time as a missionary to Japan and has in recent years been the associate secretary of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions and editor of the Missionary Herald.

Prof. Morize, professor of French at Harvard, delivered the dedicatory address at the opening of Middlebury's new French Chateau Monday. He was wounded in the world war and is a Chevalier of the Legion of Honor.

Prof. Bryant was graduated from Middlebury in 1891 and M. I. T. in 1893. He has served for many years in the science department of Middlebury College and his work has been an inspiration to hundreds of pupils.

Miss Woodruff, principal of the State Normal School at Castleton, has taught in the schools of the state for many years.

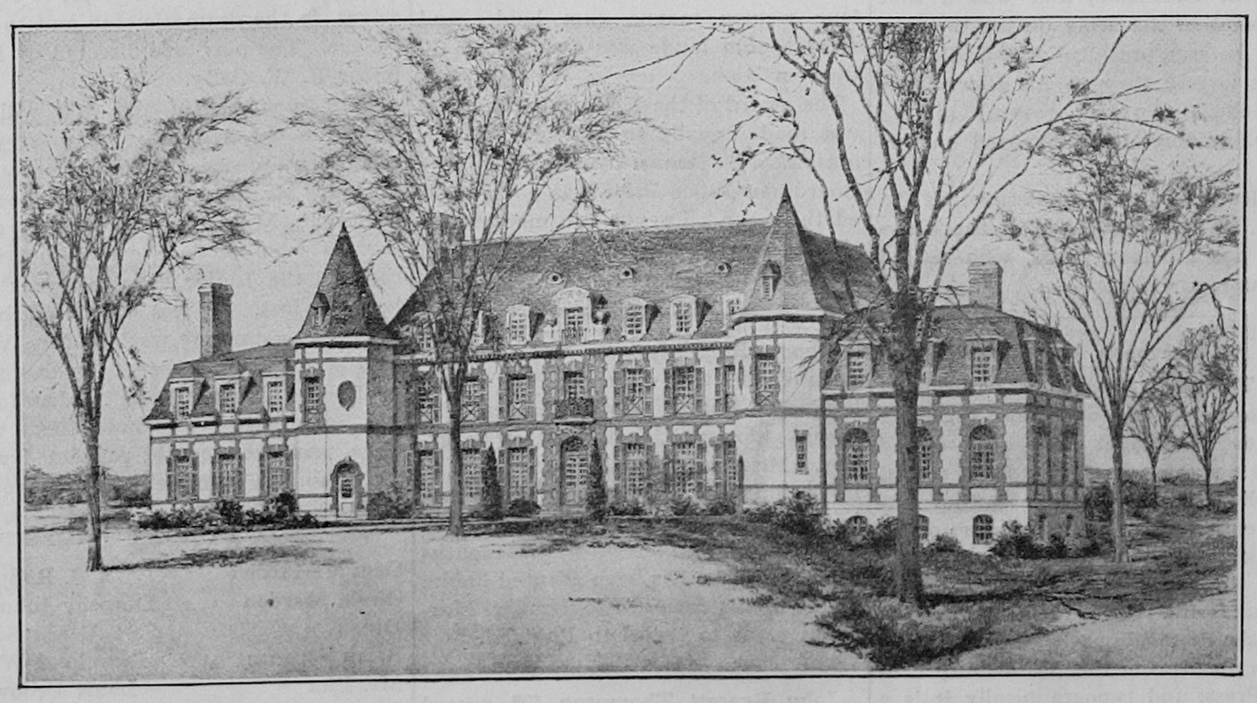
COMMENCEMENT DINNER

A gathering of faculty, alumni, seniors and honorary guests that taxed the capacity of the gymnasium to its utmost was present at the Commencement dinner this afternoon. The after-dinner program was a most interesting one. President Paul D. Moody presided. Toasts were responded to by Professor Charles Baker Wright and the seven who were given honorary degrees by the college this morning.

The Commencement program will close with the President's reception at seven this evening and the Senior Ball at nine, which will be followed as in the past years by a chapel service for seniors in the Mead Chapel at four in the morning.

MIDDLEBURY'S NEW FRENCH CHATEAU



The new French Chateau which was dedicated yesterday is probably one of the most unique college buildings in the country. It is modeled after the wing which Henry IV added to the famous palace at Fontainbleau, France, and was designed by J. Layng Mills of Boston, and built by the Cummings Construction Co., of Ware, Mass. It is built of yellow-green stucco, bordering on an olive shade, with tapestry brick trim, French windows, and with a sculpture of the French goddess of liberty's head over the main entrance. The interior combines a French architectural atmosphere with the most modern conveniences. There are dormitory accommodations for about forty women, a large reception room and a library, class rooms and dining quarters for both men and women students. It is located on the north side of the campus hill, not far from Pearson's Hall, in a position that commands an excellent view of the Green Mountain ranges to the east.

125 YEARS OF SERVICE

With the graduation of the Class of 1925 this morning, Middlebury marked the close of a century and a quarter of distinguished and honored service. The past four days of festivities have formed a fitting remembrance of this epoch of college history. It is indeed pleasant to find that such a large number of alumni have been able to return to their alma mater and renew the friendships of college days. We hope that the welcome they received will bring them back in future years in ever increasing numbers.

To the class that leaves us, the college extends Godspeed and good wishes. It is a class that is truly representative of Middlebury's best. Its scholastic achievements have been higher and its athletic history bright, and the service which it has rendered in every field is of the sort that will leave a lasting impression upon this institution.

The completion and dedication of two new buildings marks a step that is indicative of the material growth of Middlebury. These buildings fill a much-needed want and form a part of the greater development that the future holds in store.

HARVEY E. GOODELL

Those who were fortunate in knowing him, realize that Middlebury has lost a loyal alumnus and friend in the passing of Harvey E. Goodell of the class of 1915. In his ten years out of college he rose to a position of considerable importance and his prospects for the future were bright. We wish to join with his host of friends in offering to the bereaved family our most heartfelt sympathy.

THE CURTAIN FALLS

With this issue the CAMPUS suspends publication until next fall. The past year has been a busy one with many events to crowd our pages, but we feel that there are still items of interest that we have been unable to obtain. If the CAMPUS is to be made of greater interest it must completely cover the news of Middlebury and her sons and daughters. To this end we ask even greater cooperation than they have given in the past. If they will send to the editor all items of interest to Middlebury people, the CAMPUS will be glad to publish them. We attempt to cover as much alumni news as possible. With the fuller assistance of the alumni we can do better. Until Middlebury has an Alumni publication the CAMPUS is the only means afforded for the publication of news of the graduates.

NOTE

Although the articles in this issue of the CAMPUS refer to yesterday and today as Monday and Tuesday and although this issue is being published on Tuesday, the date line throughout is Wednesday, June 17, the regular date of issue of the CAMPUS.

Although the class of 1925 is the largest to graduate, according to present indications the class of 1929 will be the largest to enter.

At the close of registration in the library last night, 235 alumni had signed the registration book.

ALUMNI ASS'N. HAS ANNUAL MEETING

Consider New Plans and Elect Officers for Coming Year—Resolutions Adopted

Several important matters came before the annual business meeting of the Alumni Association, held Saturday in the Old Chapel.

The plan for the election of Alumni Trustees, to represent the alumni on the governing board of the college, was formally adopted. The nominees, Dr. L. H. Ross '90, of Bennington, Carl A. Mead '87, of New York City and Dr. George R. Drake of Plymouth, Pa., were subsequently elected at the meeting of the Board of Trustees in the afternoon.

A brief but interesting historical sketch was presented by Dr. C. Ford Langworthy '87 of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Following the report of the Necrological Committee, made by its chairman, B. W. Sherman '90, of Chicago, Ill., a resolution upon the death of Dr. Ezra Brainerd '64 and upon the deaths of other alumni were passed.

The Alumni Association, which has not been active since the reorganization of the Associated Alumni, has turned over its functions and property to the Athletic Committee of the Alumni Council, it was announced.

Following other reports from the chairman of various committees, R. R. Shepardson '23, was re-elected secretary-treasurer for the coming year.

A hearty ovation was tendered Sanford H. Lane '05, retiring President of the Alumni Council, and no less sincere greeting was given to Judge Thomas H. Noonan '91 of Buffalo, N. Y., who will serve in that capaicty for the next year.

DR. THOMAS CHOSEN RUTGERS PRESIDENT

Middlebury Graduate and Ex-President Leaves Penn State

Dr. John H. Thomas '90, president of Middlebury from 1908 until 1921, and now president of Pennsylvania State College has been chosen president of Rutgers University, at New Brunswick, N. J., according to an announcement made by the Rutgers trustees at the commencement exercises last week.

Dr. Thomas was graduated from Middlebury with the class of 1890 and three years later he was graduated from Union Theological Seminary. For a time he was pastor of the Presbyterian church of East Orange, N. J., and has been chairman of the Vermont board of education, and was a first lieutenant in the army during the war. While he was president of Middlebury it was largely through his efforts that the college acquired several of the newer buildings and increased endowment.

At Rutgers, Dr. Thomas succeeds Dr. W. H. S. Demarest, head of the University for nineteen years, who retired last June.

"A Teacher's Avocations"

"A Teacher's Avocations", a book of addresses and papers by Professor Charles B. Wright, has been issued and is now on sale. An indirect record of college history as the author has touched it during the forty years of his Middlebury service, the volume should prove of interest to many among the graduates and friends of the institution. It is the first volume to be issued under the auspices of the Middlebury College Press, and typographically it is a book of exceptional attractiveness. Any who desire a copy can secure it by addressing Mr. Rowland R. Shepardson, Alumni Secretary, Old Chapel, Middlebury, Vermont. Its price is $2, plus twenty cents for postage and packing if it is sent by mail.

CLASS DAY PROGRAM FEATURE OF MONDAY

Preisdent Moody Announces Many Commencement Honors

Class Day Exercises were held on the lower campus in front of Old Chapel yesterday morning. The seniors, arrayed in cap and gown, formed in line by the Starr Library and marched over to take their seats led by the junior marshalls, Alfred Knowles and Juanita Pritchard. The procession was escorted on both sides by undergraduate girls bearing the daisy chain.

The exercises were opened with a brief address of welcome by William E. Long, class president. The first speaker for the morning was Merrick W. Chapin who delivered the class history in rather a humorous vein.

The class oration was next delivered by Malcolm T. Anderson. He commenced by sketching the growth of Middlebury since the centennial celebration of 1900. He then went on to deal with the problems that are facing the college today in regard to the kind of students that it is admitting to its doors. Saying that the type of student is changing, he denounced the shiftless lazy sort that is finding its way into college, with apparently no purpose in life. He said, "Far too often, the world does not hold the respect for college men that it did in former times." His speech was well written and delivered in a pleasing and forceful style.

Following this, Miss Esther Spooner read a class poem. The prophecy was given by Frank H. Herrington and Ruth E. Whitney who stood behind a large volume on the back of which was inscribed, "Who's Who and Who's Not." Their revelations of the future were in many instances rather apt and drew frequent laughs from the audience.

Eunice Hutchison then read the class essay and this was followed by the reading of the will by S. Richard Rapport whose bequests were welcomed by the recipients and audience as well.

At the close of the exercises, the class tree was dedicated, Herbert O. Riegelman, making the dedicatory address.

President Moody made the announcement of the following honors:

Valedictory, F. Beacom Rich, Ruth M. Collins; Salutatory, Thomas O. Carlson, Esther V. Sargent.

By way of explanation he said that the highest rank among the women was received by Katherine Simonds who was ineligible to receive the valedictory honor because she has been at Middlebury but three years having transferred from another institution where numerical ranks were not maintained. Ten men and nineteeen women were granted cum laude honors, four men and four women magna cum laude, and summa cum laude was awarded to F. Beacom Rich.

The award of the Kellogg Latin prizes was made equally to Marjorie A. Billings '27, and Cleone Comings, '27. The Boardman Peace Prize was not awarded this year. Twenty-two members of the class were recipients of Phi Beta Kappa honors.

Henry B. Margeson, ex-'23 was a member of the class of 1925 which graduated from the United States Military Academy at West Point on Saturday. He expects to be commissioned in the infantry and has requested that he be ordered to Fort Washington as his first station. In a three months leave which he has been granted before taking up his duties in September, Margeson plans to travel to England.

John Everett Thompson, '02, passed away suddenly in New York City on Tuesday, June 9. His death was due partly to the excessive heat of the past week. Funeral services and burial took place here on Friday. At the time of his death Mr. Thompson was connected with the Standard Oil.

A. A. U. W. ENTERTAINS SENIOR GIRLS

American Ass'n. of University Women Urges Middlebury Graduates to Become Members

The women of the senior class were guests at a recent meeting of the Middlebury chapter of the American Association of University Women. The local chapter, which was recognized in 1921 is doing an active work. The Middlebury Alumnae Association is anxious that Middlebury graduates join the A. A. U. W. Only graduates of colleges of high standard can be members. Of more than 600 colleges, only 145 are recognized by the Association while 108 others are now applying.

The A. A. U. W. has 305 branches with a total membership of 22,000. Thru its officers and committees it carries on valuable work along many lines. It awards 12 graduate fellowships while the branches give several hundred undergraduate scholarships. It administers a large fund for the study of the pre-school child and elementary education and a smaller fund for international work. The association has well organized headquarters in Washington, publishes a splendid journal, is represented on the Women's Joint Congressional Committee, American Council of Education, Association to aid Scientific Research by Women, Co-operative Bureau for Women Teachers, was one of the eight women's organization to sponsor the Conference on the Cause and Cure of War this past January.

Each member feels a debt of gratitude to the American Association of University Women not only for the delightful social opportunities which its city and national clubs and branch meetings give but best of all for helping to maintain the spirit of opportunity and endeavor, that zest for things of the intellect, and that broadened outlook on life which college has given us.

"MR. PIM" ENJOYED BY LARGE AUDIENCE

Four Prominent Seniors Appear on Playhouse Stage for Last Time

The Middlebury College Dramatic Club brought its most successful season to a close on Monday night when it presented "Mr. Pim Passes By" in the college Playhouse before a large audience of alumni, and their friends. The play is a three-act English comedy and was written by A. A. Milne. The entire cast was made of those who have had abundant experience and their performance was a credit to themselves, to the dramatic club and to the college. The play was directed by Professor F. W. Cady.

Four members of the cast will be lost from the dramatic club next year and their presence will certainly be missed. Mr. Rapport who has been a leader in Middlebury dramatics during his whole college career and who coached the Junior Play this year will be a big loss. No less will Middlebury miss the oustanding work of Mr. Ward who will be remembered for his production of "March Hares". Miss Johnson and Miss Scott and others who have been prominently connected with the club are also being lost through graduation.

Due to the fact that not enough seniors filled out their blanks, the senior statistics were not compiled.

HARVEY E. GOODELL '15, DIES SUDDENLY

Death of Attorney General's Assistant is Shock To All

Harvey E. Goodell, a graduate of Middlebury in the class of 1915 and an assistant to Attorney-General Sargent, passed away in the Walter Reid Hospital at Washington, Saturday, June 6. His death followed an illness of ten days and was caused by ulcers of the stomach.

Harvey Goodell was one of the more prominent of the younger alumni of Middlebury, having worked himself up to a high place in political and business affairs during the ten years he had been out of college. He had acted as secretary of civil and military affairs of Vermont from 1917 to 1921 under the administration of Governors Graham and Clement and was the first secretary of the state board of control. During these years he demonstrated his ability for detail, his absolute trustworthiness, and strong natural sagacity in matter of politics and public business.

After the Clement administration, Goodell had been in the lumber and automobile business until his appointment as assistant to Attorney-General Sargent in April. In 1917 he had married Miss Ellen Bailey, a Middlebury graduate of the class of 1914, who, with five children, survive him.

Simple and impressive funeral services were held in Wells River last Wednesday and burial was made in the Wells River cemetery. A notable gathering of present and former officials of the state of Vermont and members of the bar attended the funeral.

Middlebury College was represented at the funeral by Professor Wilfred E. Davison, '13, Delta Upsilon was represented by Russell P. Dale, '11, Charles L. Smiddy, '13, Benjamin W. Fisher, '14, and Karl W. Davis, '17. Other Middlebury graduates present were Julian A. Wilcox, '12, and John M. Avery, '11. Ex-governors Graham and Clement and Attorney-General Sargent were present at the funeral.

Two More Faculty Changes Made Known

Further changes in the faculty for next year in addition to those already announced in the Campus were released this week.

Miss Vera Schuller A. M., now of the German department has resigned to accept the position of head of the Department of Modern Languages at Lenoir Rhyne College, Hickory, N. C. Miss Schuller will stay in Middlebury duing the coming summer while pursuing work in the French summer school.

Mr. Norman Dunshee Scott B. SC. (Oxon) Ph.D., at present a member of the faculty of the Chemistry department, has resigned his position to take effect at the close of the coming summer session, to accept a research fellowship at Harvard under Professor James Conant under whom he will pursue work on an electro chemical problem connected with the haemo globin of the blood. Mr. Scott's successor has not yet been appointed.

D. K. E. Wins Baseball Cup

The interfraternity baseball cup is on the trophy table of the D. K. E. House today. By defeating Chi Psi 14 to 7 the Dekes won the third of a three game series with their runners-up, and clinched their title to the cup.

Bill Rice was too much for the contenders for the interfraternity baseball championship and his slugging mates put the game on ice for him. Chi Psi had won the second of the series, thus making the third fray necessary to prove which was the better of the two teams.

125TH ANNIVERSARY IS COMMEMORATED

Professor Charles B. Wright Tells of Gala Jubilee of 1850

Middlebury College formally commemorated the 125th anniversary of its founding Sunday afternoon in a special vesper service held in the Mead Memorial Chapel. Charles B. Wright, professor-emeritus of Rhetoric and English Literature, who is perhaps better fitted to speak of the history of the college than anyone else on account of his forty years of continuous connection with it, gave the address of the afternoon, taking as his subject, "A Gala Day of Long Ago." Rev. James L. Barton '81, gave the prayer while President Paul D. Moody gave the benediction. Special music was provided by the Choral Class.

Professor Wright, after speaking briefly of the purpose of having such anniversary celebrations, spent the greater part of his time in telling in a most interesting manner of the Jubilee celebration held here in 1850.

Speaking of the present anniversary exercises, he said: "It is appropriate surely, as the clock is strinking the quarters of our second century to celebrate thus, in however simple a fashion, this minor anniversary in Middlebury's life; rejoicing again, as the fathers rejoiced, in the history of her achievement, and pledging anew, as they pledged anew, our loyalty and our love.

"It is man's supreme prerogative to be a creature looking before and after. His habitual look should be forward, for progress is the measure of his success; but he needs at times the backward look to chart a safe and sailable course on the future's untried sea—and anniversaries are primarily the days of the backward look."

Professor Wright told of the gala celebration of 1850 and gave interesting quotations from several of the more prominent speakers at that occasion.

In closing, he said: "We look back lovingly to the former days, not that we may linger in the camps of our fathers hallowed, but that our own may be pitched still farther on the journey toward the goal. We must do more than they, and better, or we shall not do so well. Encouraged, then and strengthened by the lessons of this hour, let us set our faces forward. May there come to us new courage for the ever-growing tasks, and a reverent faith that the providence of the past is an earnest of greater favor in the days to come. The pinion of glad remembrance, and the pinion of a resulting hope—what heights will they not make easy for aspiring souls."

The service closed with the singing of the same song which was sung at the close of a similar service at the Jubilee of 1850—the Doxology "From all that dwell beneath the skies," to the tune of "Old Hundred."

Beta Kappa To Have House in September

The Beta Kappa fraternity has leased the Butterfield House on Main street for its chapter house for the coming year, according to an announcement made last week by the fraternity.This is the first time that the Beta Kappa's have had a house, they having had rented rooms since their establishment in 1923.

This house was occupied up until 1923 by Delta Upsilon and during the college year of 1923-24 by Sigma Phi Iota, which recently became Sigma Phi Epsilon. Twelve men will live in the house while all of the members will eat there.

WITHAM BLANKS FOE AS TEAM RUNS WILD

12-0 Win Over St. Michael's Winds up the Baseball Season

Playing a brand of baseball that was far superior in every respect to that of the opponents, the Black Panther wound up its baseball season Saturday afternoon by trimming St. Michael's 12 to 0 before a large crowd of alumni. The game was Middlebury's from start to finish for heavy hitting combined with the wretched fielding of the opponents brought runs almost at will, while with Jack Witham pitching almost perfect ball, the visitors never got beyond second base.

Witham, pitching his last game for the Blue, was easily the star of the game. He gave but one lone hit to the visiting batsmen, that a single by Perotta in the third which bounced past Conley at third base. In the eighth Witham retired the side on strike-outs, bringing his afternoon's total to eight. He was backed up by almost perfect support, fast double plays twice killing off the Purple baserunners.

Middlebury scored in every inning but the sixth and seventh. Thirteen lusty hits, including three two-baggers and a home run, were totaled. Joe Novotny, who was elected captain for next year at the close of the game, continued his season's record of heavy hitting by connecting for three safe blows in three consecutive innings. Both he and Conley scored in three safe blows in three consecutive innings, the third, fourth and fifth, Klevenow finished the afternoon's scoring spree in the ieghth when he sent the ball through the left field fence for a home run.

Athletic Council Members

Elections for five members for the Athletic Council for the coming year resulted in the following: Joseph C. Novotny '26, Walter A. Potter '26, Lindley W. Robinson '26, Courtland G. Whitney '26, and Alton R. Huntington '27.

COLLINS LEAVING STAFF OF COLLEGE

Retiring After Sixteen Years of Service in Important Positions

Dr. Edward D. Collins has announced his decision to retire from the Middlebury College service at the end of the present fiscal year. Dr. Collins, who was appointed comptroller in 1923, has been on leave during the current year. While he has so far recovered his health as to permit his giving much time to his varied private interests, he deems it unwise to retain in addition to those any important institutional duties.

In the 16 years he has been associated with Middlebury, Doctor Collins has occupied many important positions and has influenced greatly the life of the college. It was under his leadership that the Department of Pedagogy was developed. For years he did important work on the Curriculum Committee. Those who were fortunate enough to know Doctor Collins as a teacher will not forget the inspiration of his scholarly work.

The Summer Session in its present form is the result of his far reaching vision and tireless effort. It was he who conceived the distinctive idea of the special schools which have achieved such prominence in recent years, including the School of English at Bread Loaf, which Dr. Collins organized. In creating the Bread Loaf School he not only intensified the unique qualtiy of Middlebury's summer work, but skilfully connected the large material resources of Joseph Battell's generous gift with the educational work of the College. The musical interests of the College also owe much to the enthusiasm of his support.

In administrative work, too, Dr. Collins has occupied several important positions, two of which were created es-

Richard B. Stout Wins Parker Speaking Contest

Richard B. Stout was the winner of first prize of fifty dollars in the Parker Prize Speaking Contest for freshmen, held in the Mead Memorial Chapel Wednesday, May 27. The subject of the prize-winning speech was "A Lesson From Russia."

Iancu A. Weiss, speaking on "The Immigration Question", was awarded second prize of thirty-five dollars. Grant G. Lavery, with the subjcet "The Crisis" and Robert E. Comiskey, speaking on "Student Government", won third and fourth prizes respectively. The other freshmen who participated in the contest were Philip E. Dempsey, Afton B. Hilliard, Vernet S. Keller and Donald L. Lindsley.

PERMANENT SENIOR OFFICERS ELECTED

Marshall Klevenow and Miss Katharine Mix Are Honored by 1925 Class

Marshall M. Klevenow '25 was elected permanent class president at the last meeting of the senior class held on Friday. At the same time Katharine Mix was chosen permanent secretary-treasurer. The two will hold office for five years.

Both have been outstanding in their class during their four college years. Klevenow's individual achievements in football and baseball while he has been earning four letters in each of the two sports, are well known to everyone. He was a member of the Student Council for two years and is a member of Sages, Waubanakee and Alpha Sigma Phi.

Miss Mix has been unusually prominent in women's athletics and Y. W. C. A. work. She has been president of the Y. W. C. A. during the past year. She is a member of Banshee and of Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Sigma Phi Epsilon announces that it has pledged and initiated John P. McNeil '26, and Irving C. Keene '27.

Do what Toledo did

Once Toledo had a nuisance, a tract of swamp land near the lake, a breeder of mosquitoes, foul odors and fogs.

But an automatic pumping station, equipped with motors made by the General Electric Company, turned the swamp into dry land—and abolished the menace to the city.

This is one example of what electricity can do. As you meet life's problems, think of electricity as a valiant and ever-ready ally.

Study what electricity is doing to make a better and happier America; remember that you will live in an electrical age, full of surprises, and full of new services to humanity. The monogram "G-E" which you see above is placed on the epoch-making products of the General Electric Company.

If you are interested to learn more about what electricity is doing, write for Reprint No. AR391 containing a complete set of these advertisements.

DELTA UPSILON RESIGNS FROM COUNCIL

Deferred Rushing Upheld by Other Six Groups; D. U. Dissents

One of the most trying situations in the history of the interfraternity council came to a head last week when James McLeod, '26, representing Delta Upsilon on the interfraternity council, stood before that body and proffered the resignation of Delta Upsilon from the council. The remaining six fraternities, Alpha Sigma Phi, Beta Kappa, Chi Psi, Delta Kappa Epsilon, Kappa Delta Rho and Sigma Phi Epsilon voted unanimously to accept the resignation.

The withdrawal came as a result of the belief of Delta Upsilon that it was no longer deriving any benefit from the Interfraternity Council and its desire to do away with deferred rushing. Before accepting the resignation the other six fraternities drew up a resolution re-affirming their belief in the value of the present system of rushing and excluding any fraternity not abiding by their rules from the benefit of the present course of interfraternity government.

The resolution follows:

"Whereas, it has been the policy adopted by the unanimous approval of the Interfraternity Council to prescribe certain rules and regulations for the better government of pledging, rushing, and initiating men into the various fraternities, that the six fraternities still think these prescribed rules are for the best interest of the college and therefore ought to continue, in their present status.

"And since it is a rule in most councils that the majority should rule, and since there is really no fundamental or necesssary reason why the existence of these present rules should not continue, that any fraternity which deems itself incapable or for any other reasons does not desire to adhere to them, such fraternity should not be permitted to have the benefits of the present course of interfraternity government. And it is proposed that any fraternity which does not desire to follow the regulations, that such fact be should be made known to the incoming freshmen, and an effort should be made to obtain the hearty approval of the new men and further efforts should be made to prevent the new men from joining and being pledged by any fraternity other than within the rules and regulations heretofore prescribed, by the Interfraternity Council.

"It is the desire of the council that all the fraternities should heartily cooperate to fulfill and live up to the rules prescribed."

The affair was the result of a proposal by Delta Upsilon to have fraternity rushing within two weeks after the opening of college; a definite proposal which they offered calling for rushing to start three days after the opening of college. The sentiment of the other six fraternities showed that they believed that a later rushing season would be the only fair way to have the freshmen secure a good view of the groups on the campus. After the passage of the resolution in which the desire of the majority was reaffirmed, the Delta Upsilon fraternity formally withdrew.

Consequently the college will be faced by the unusual situation next fall of having one fraternity rushing at the opening of college and the members of the council defering the rushing until one month later. The interfraternity council will make a strong fight in an effort to prevent any outside group from violating the rules of the council and as an opening move has voted to debar Delta Upsilon from participation in any fraternity relations.

The women's glee club was the winner of the first prize in a musical contest held at Rutland on May 30.

1. Not more than fifteen men shall be pledged by any fraternity during the college year.
2. Any Sophomore, Junior or Senior not a transfer shall be eligible to be pledged any time during the year.
3. No Freshman or transfer shall be allowed in a fraternity house or rooms before the regular rushing season with the exception of the nights designated by the interfraternity Council as open nights for that fraternity. The number of such nights not to exceed two in number and shall not constitute a time for any attempt at rushing.
4. There shall be no rushing prior to the date and time as fixed by the Interfraternity Council.
5. Any fraternity convicted of violating the rushing rules three times in one season shall be prohibited from pledging any men for that year.
6. Women shall not be present at any rushing party.
7. No fraternity shall initiate a man till after pledge day.
8. Alumni are governed by these rules.
9. Rushing is defined as the attempt by any man to inform a man of or place him in contact with any fraternity. This to include treats, movies and any other acts which might in any way obligate a person.
10. Dating shall be as follows: The first two days dates to be made "catch as catch can"; the following two days to be assigned; the fifth day selection and the sixth day to be pledge day.
11. No dating on the first day before 12:30 noon.
12. There shall be no rushing between the hours of 10:30 in the evening and 7 in the morning.
13. Rushing season shall commence 12:30 noon on October 26, and end on October 30, at 10:30 p. m. October 31, to be pledge day.

pecially for him, that of Provost and later that of Comptroller. In these positions he gave the College generously of his business ability. When Ex-President John M. Thomas was absent during the war, and later in the interim after the resignation of President Thomas, Doctor Collins served as Acting President of the College, and it was largely his skillful guidance during those difficult years which enabled the College to emerge so successfully from the trying situation created by the war.

As teacher, Head of the Department of Pedagogy, Director of the Summer Session, and in the various administrative positions which he has more recently occupied, Doctor Collins has left upon Middlebury the stamp of his distinctive personality and the stimulus of his broad vision as an educator of unusual ability.

Hawthorne and Cooley Win Wetherell Awards

The Wetherell debating prizes were awarded this year to Dana S. Hawthorne '26 and Oscar W. Cooley '25, both of whom have been very active in forensics during the past year.

Mr. Hawthorne has been very prominent in the department of public speaking during the past two years. He has spoken in nine out of twelve intercollegiate debates, and has been the manager of the debating team this year. He has assisted Professor Davison in coaching the Merrill and Parker Prize Speaking contests. Last year he divided the first honors for the Wetherell award with Edgar Austin '24.

Mr. Cooley has also been active in debating during his career at Middlebury, taking part in many of the forensic battles which have brought honor to the Blue during the past few years.

THETA CHI EPSILON BECOMES ALPHA PI OF ALPHA XI DELTA

Twenty-Three Active Members and Eleven Alumnae of Sorority Initiated

Middlebury added another national sorority to her present enrollment last Saturday morning, when Alpha Omega of Theta Chi Epsilon was formally installed as Alpha Pi Chapter of Alpha Xi Delta. Representatives from nearby chapters were on the campus Friday and Saturday. The initiation banquet was held Saturday evening at the Brsitol Inn at Bristol, at which Miss Ruth Nelson, '24, acted as toastmistress.

Theta Chi Epsilon, which was founded here in 1921, is the fifth national sorority here. Twenty-three of its active members and eleven alumnae members were initiated. The alumnae who returned were Marion Travis, '23, Hazel Proctor, '23, Margaret Tomasi, '24, Ruth Nelson, '24, Adeline Angier, '24, Jessie J. Bennett, '24, , Helen Griffith, '24, Sarah Bailey '24, Helen Cleveland, '24, Kathleen Kirby, '24, and Lillian Knight' 24.

Alpha Xi Delta is a well known sorority having at present forty active chapters well distributed throughout the country, and thirty-six alumnae chapters. Those situated nearest to Middlebury are at Jackson College, University of New Hampshire, University of Vermont, and Syracuse University. It was founded in 1893 at Lombard College in Illinois.

The installing officers were Mrs. Anna M. Knote, national executive secretary, and Mrs. Lucile T. Newman, province president. Other guests included Miss Blanche Christian of Eta Chapter, Miss Martha O'Neil, of Burlington, with seventeen representatives of Upsilon Chapter at U. V. M.

Weekes '24 Awarded Fellowship

Donald F. Weeks '24 who will receive an M. A. degree from Amherst this year has been awarded a Charles A. Coffin Foundation Fellowship by the General Electric to enable him to take up research work during the next school year on the correlation of magnetic and physical properties of matter. He will study at Amherst.

Novotny Named Baseball Capt.

Joseph C. Novotny '26 of Milwaukee, Wis., was elected captain of baseball for the 1926 season, at a meeting of the letter men held after the St. Michael's game on Saturday. Novotny has starred in the outfield during the three years that he has played on the team. He has been the team's heaviest hitter during the past season. He was a letter man in football during his freshman and sophomore years and served as trainer last fall, since he was unable to play on account of an injury. He expects to be in football togs again in the fall. He is a member of the Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity.

STATE TRACK TITLE GOES TO VERMONT

Victory Snatched From Blue by Narrow Margin; First Time in Years

For the first time in nine years Middlebury was defeated by the University of Vermont in track, when the Green and Gold track men scored 66 points to Middlebury's 54½ in the State Track meet on May 29th on Porter Field. Norwich trailed in the scoring column with 14 points. The meet was very closely contested thruout, with Middlebury and Vermont fighting it out for first honors in this annual classic.

The cold weather and steady drizzle of rain hindered the men greatly, and as a result the times for the various track events were rather slow. Three marks were broken in the field events, all by Vermont men. Captain Hill of Vermont broke the state record in the hammer throw with a heave of 139 feet, eleven and one-half inches. Whitten raised the mark in the pole vault to 11 feet, six inches while Simpson set a new javeline record at 147 feet, 8 and three-fourth inches. Donald, of Middlebury, placed first in both the 440 yard dash and in the 880 yard run.

Vermont jumped into the lead early in the meet when Shaw placed first in the 120 high hurdles and Crouder nosed out Happ for a first in the 100 yard dash. From then on she held her lead with a fair margin until Donald placed first in the half mile for Middlebury and Happ tied with Crouder for first in the 220 yard dash. But the Green and Gold took eight points in the pole vault and five in the javeline, the two final events, and Middlebury's supremacy for eight consecutive years on the cinder path had been shattered.

A daughter, Harriet, was born to Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Shepardson '23, last Thursday, June 11.

GRADUATION WEAKENS ATHLETIC TEAMS

Twenty Letter Men Receive Diplomas—Football Is Hit Hardest

The closing of another college year sees the passing of a number of athletes who have made history for Middlebury. The football team, which made a record that will long remain in Midrlebury's memory, loses more of its star players than any other sport. Captain Klevenow, Papke, Reigelman, Hollquist, Lobo, Chapin, Carboy, Kilbride, Cass, Yeaw, Leary and Fredrickson will not be seen in uniform next year, although Klevenow will take up the burden of coaching the team.

Basketball sees the passing of Captain Hollquist after four years' service. This will be a hard blow for the varsity, but as the team remains intact outside of this, prospects are bright. Track loses Captain Cass, high point man of the year, and Happ, one of the best short distance men the Blue has had for some time. Whitney, who has scored consistently in several different events, and Carboy will be missed.

Baseball is hit severely with the passing of Captain Papke at short, Kilbride catcher, Klevenow and Banks outfielders, and Jack Witham pitcher. Witham will be missed for he was twirling effective ball this year and was a big factor in nearly all of the team's victories. Klevenow will be seen in a uniform next year, but as a coach.

Minor sports will not be hit as hard for but five men leave. Tennis receives the severest blow with the passing of Captain Rich who has led the team for two years. Adams, star singles and doubles player, will receive his sheepskin and his loss will be felt. Hockey sees the passing of Captain Leary and Cross Country loses Gollnick, Carlson and Brookins, all regulars of the last year's team.

Baccalaureate Addresses Delivered by President Moody

ed at the first meeting he attended whether the college was cultural or vocational, and no decision could be reached by the board. Dartmouth, under the able leadership of Dr. Hopkins, has been trying to face this question with utmost honesty and frankness. The result has been the report of Professor Richardson with its careful study of the colleges not only of this country, but of England and Scotland as well.

"In this day of controversy in the church it is above all necessary to be said in fairness that if Fundamentalism fails in the present conflict it will be more than anything else because it insists upon thinking of God in terms of the past and demands that the thought of God should be harmonized, not with the science of the present day but with the science which has been outgrown. The principal contribution of science today to the Christian is in its revelation of the processes of God. In the past, man thought of the world as being whistled into being, full flegded. They knew that a tree grew from a seed and that every other process of nature was from the lower to the higher by slow and gradual processes. But they treated the world itself in an altogether different manner.

"Now we know that the servants of God, fire, wind and water, have been carrying out his bidding over uncounted eons of time and this universe is no less a creation of God because he has been engaged upon it for hundreds of thousands of years than if he had called it into being in a second of space. There are some who are opposed to the study of science because to them it means the discoverey of things which apparently they think God does not know and there have been scientists who have allowed this spirit to color their own work and attitude toward truth.

"The true test of education is the ability to relate knowldege to life. The inspired and inspiriing teacher always makes his students feel the relationship of the thing he teaches to life itself. It has been said, and truly, that here is the secret for vocational and cultural subjects, for the most vocational subject can, under the right leadership, be taught with cultural effects, while the most cultural subjects can be taught with narrow vocational ends.

"The student who stumbles monotonously through some subject, may have his whole attitude toward that subject changed by the realization of the varying of that subject upon life. Where education fails, it fails just because the student does not see the object and the end of his work, and though he may pass his examinations and memorize effectively long tables and vast arrays of formulae, this is wasted if it remains like the food on the shelves of a grocery stored away in alcoves of his mind. This is what Jesus meant when he said that life eternal was a knowledge of God, for the breadth of our life is in direct relation to the breadth of the subject or subjects which we know."

Closing Words to Seniors

In closing, President Moody said to the senior class: "We would like to send you out into the world, from this, your last Sunday on the old hill, with these words written upon the tablets of your heart and mind, that the test of knowledge is life. Many of the things you have been taught here will fade from your minds with the memories of examinations, but while we sincerely hope and earnestly pray that your lives may prove richer and fuller for the knowledge you have gained here, it is even more the desire of this old college that your lives may have the fullest breadth, and height, and depth and length because you have entered into the knowledge of the love of God as revealed in the person of his son, our Saviour, Jesus Christ.

welfare of the students is part of the responsibility of the faculty and trustees.

"It is for these reasons that we fully appreciate the debt which we all—trustees, faculty, students, and I may add the people of Middlebury—owe to Mr. Porter. For the use of this hospital is not to be confined to the college. It is his expressed desire that it should be of use to the community. The surgeons and physicians of the town are privileged to send any one to the hospital and to use all its facilities for the relief of any one.

"And there is another element in the establishment of this hospital which I wish to emphasize. It should be a distinct stimulus to the young men of the college to appreciate medicine as a calling. Very few of our graduates have gone into medicine—only eight per cent in the last five years. I believe that more will choose this profession if they are aware of what it offers. Progress in no science has been more rapid and satisfactory than in medicine. Why should not our students take their part in this worthy work, and how can they better be stimulated to do so than by learning the lessons which the hospital is built to teach."

ideals. It is, it will be, a constant source of inspiration, of thought, and of culture." Particularly did Professor Morize emphasize the influence that the chateau and the French School of Middlebury would have in bringing to each country a closer understanding with the other.

Said Professor Morize in closing, in regard to the many teachers who will come to the chateau summer after summer to enrich their ability, "We bring to you a French house, a French atmosphere, a French heart, a French life. Come and speak French, think in French, play in French. We bring living France to you; with all the devotion and enthusiasm of our hearts, with love and hope. In an atmosphere of confidence and cooperation, let us work and learn."

Alumni Win Loving Cups

At a recent meeting of the humorous publication board, she was elected to the staff of associate editors. She is a tryout for the business staff of the CAMPUS and a member of the Delta Delta Delta sorority. Heretofore the Baboon board has been made up entirely of men.

Springfield Downs Netmen In Season's Last Match

Amid darkness and thundershowers the tennis team lost its final match of the season to Springfield 4-2. The match was close and was not decided until the final match. Middlebury took an early lead when both Twitchel and Adams were leading by large scores. However both men lost giving Springfield a good start. Hindes playing second man pulled a beautiful comeback winning his match in straight sets.

Extra copies of this issue of the CAMPUS may be secured at the publications office, second floor of middle Painter Tuesday from four to six, and seven to eight and Wednesday morning between nine and ten o'clock. Ten cents a copy.

French Club Names Miss Miner '26 as President

At the last meeting of the French Club, Harriett C. Miner, '26, was elected president for the coming year. Miss Miner who is specializing in French has been intimately associated with the activities of the club during the past year.

Charlotte Raymond, '26, was named vice president, and Howard Cutler, '27, secretary-treasurer at the same meeting. The class representatives on the executive committee are to be chosen in the fall.

The plan is to start the activities of the club immediately on the opening of college, to enlist the interest of the incoming class, and to make the club an active group on the campus thruout the year.

Ideal Summer Home

For Rest and Study and Quiet

HERE is an opportunity for the man, whose work-days are days of hard, driving mental strain, to own a summer home to which you will be happy to go when college closes and classroom work is over.

UNCLE SAM BUILT THEM

The 278 artistic houses which Uncle Sam built when the U. S. Shipping Board located an Emergency Shipbuilding Plant at Portsmouth, N. H., during the war, are now going to be sold. Uncle Sam paid the price to build these homes. Now he has ordered me to sell every one of them at Public Auction "At Your Own Price."

YOU CAN OWN ONE AT "YOUR OWN PRICE"

This means that these 278 well built, detached and semi-detached houses will be bought by those fortunate ones who take the time and trouble to attend the sale and buy.

DELIGHTFUL "ATLANTIC HEIGHTS"

In Portsmouth, in a section named "Atlantic Heights", these houses are at the gateway to the White Mountains, and overlook the Piscataqua River. Healthy, charming environment, delightful surroundings—an ideal summer home. Just what you want. A nice, modern home, well built. Accessible and convenient to diversions and places of interest.

Uncle Sam is not in the real estate business as a competitor of his citizens—but he does not mind passing a good thing along when he has the chance.

Diamond Artists Lose Close Battle to Springfield

A careless start that gave the visitors on run in the first inning proved the downfall of Middlebury's nine on Porter Field Memorial Day, when Springfield won a 2 to 1 pitcher's battle. Jack Witham hurled wonderful ball, and Crawley, the enemy tosser, was a worthy opponent for the fray. But neither issued a pass during the afternoon, Jack threw a losing game because of that first run.

Middlebury tied the count in the fourth with a tally, but Springfield earned a second run when the sixth came along, and the Black Panther sluggers were unable to connect with Crawley's throws for another tying point.

Blue Wins From St. Michael's

Plentiful errors in the Winooski fielding gave Middlebury an easy victory over St. Michael's Wednesday, June 3, at Winooski; Coach Morey's men took 10 tallies to six for the enemy. The fireworks were started by the Blue in th fourth when two runs were brought across the plate. And then in consecutive innings one, three, and four were placed in the summary.

Winooski, by bunching hits in the seventh, gathered three tallies , and three more came in the ieghth. But Towne's slow balls puzzled the St Michael's batsmen, while Midduebury's team chased Boucher and Bolans from the box and took a few blows at the offerings of Buley bfore the end of the ninth.

Nine miscues were credited to Winooski players. Five made by Black Panther men might have proved fatal if some of St. Michael's hits had been intermingled with them.

Some Of The Reasons Why Life Insurance Salesmanship Offers An Excellent Opportunity To The College Man
He is teaching and applying business economics to both the homes and the business of the country.
He is offering a commodity service that never depreciates, but grows in value with each succeeding year; he can go back to his clients time and again with a feeling of entire confidence that there will be no complaint as to quality, quantity, or usefulness of previous delivery.
With every sale there is an immediate, fair compensation accruing while he is acquiring experience with which to develop greater earning power.
We solicit correspondence on the subject.
